

Daily Activity Notification

At Sienna, we are committed to lively leisure. We want to keep residents active and socially engaged. However, we place resident health and safety above all else, so during these unprecedented times, we are preserving our sense of community as much as possible while keeping our physical distance. Our lifestyle consultants are using their energy, passion, and creativity to create valuable moments that matter to residents, so that they can continue to live life fully every day.

Please follow us on social media to see some of the moments we're creating each day.
